

who we are

Girls Living Life On Purpose, Inc (GLLOP) is the premier all girl Christian organization dedicated solely to empowering African American/minority teen girls through life coaching.

We understand the importance of coaching. The concept is often reserved for adults leaving our children at a disadvantage because not all teens come from a nurturing environment. GLLOP exist to bridge that gap and level the playing field of life for all girls.

We are aware of the many challenges our teen girls face on a daily basis. We understand that some behavior is just part of the teen transition. However, when these challenges are not addressed, they can manifest themselves into more abusive and destructive behavior that can carry over into womanhood.

We offer our services to teen girls who have been labeled “at risk”. No one likes to be labeled so why would our girls be any different? It’s not where you start, but where you finish that matters we encourage each girl to envision her finish and then take the necessary steps to get there.

We specialize in producing Purpose Girls™. No two girls are alike so we don’t offer a one size fits all curriculum. We develop a plan of action specifically tailored to each girl’s individual need and assign a life purpose coach™ to guide her on her pathway to purpose.

our mission

To inspire teen girls from all walks of life to discover who they are, to connect with other like minded girls and to pursue their purpose with passion.

program goals

- Encourage girls to discover and celebrate their uniqueness
- Empower girls to make sound decisions
- Help girls recognize their passions as it relates to their purpose
- Develop girls to their full potential
- Help girls along their pathway to purpose

our program

Our program is designed to run for one calendar year (Jan-Dec) to include:

10-week Group Life Purpose Coaching Sessions. These sessions are designed to create a process of change, a relationship of growth and a path to discovery. This strategic process with a Certified Life Purpose Coach™, trained and certified through Life Purpose Coaching Centers, Int’l, results in a clearer understand and vision of the intersection of their passions and God’s purpose for their life.

Girls Gatherings. These gatherings are designed for girls to come together to relax and have a good time with like minded girls. The gatherings can include sleepovers, movies, spa day and are generally organized by the G.A.B.

membership

GLLOP is a membership organization and membership is open to all teen girls ages 13 to 17. Membership is $75.00 per girl/per calendar year and must be renewed each January.
